National Archives Australia (Melbourne). 'M' – Mackie to Musgrove.??The Trust required that applications for grants be lodged on their prescribed application forms, the format of which varied slightly over the years, but which always requested the following general details: name and address of applicant, whether permanent resident in Victoria, date and place of enlistment, date and place of nursing training, hospitals worked in abroad, illnesses contracted abroad, name of medical adviser, occupation and details of any income, and reasons for application.??The applications are arranged alphabetically by surname of applicant in folders also alphabetically ordered. Applications made in 1975 at the invitation of the Trust in its attempt to disburse all remaining funds are mostly in letter form and contained in the folders of correspondence.
