The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE0670

Miller, Beryl

(1926 -)

Born	19260101, Geelong Victoria Australia

Occupation	Women's rights activist

Summary

Beryl Miller was born in Geelong, Victoria. The daughter of British migrants she came to Adelaide after her marriage in 1945. She joined the Eureka Youth League at 15 and joined joining the Communist Party of Australia in 1952. She was involved with the Union of Australian Women, the Women's International Democratic Federation and the Australian Peace Committee. She left the Communist Party and became a foundation member of the Socialist Party of Australia. Miller represented South Australia in 1964 when the Communist Party of Australia organised the first women's delegation to Russia.

Published resources

Resource
Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Archival resources

State Library of South Australia
Interview with Beryl Miller [sound recording] Interviewer: Allison Murchie

Interview with Beryl Miller [sound recording] Interviewer: Kirstin Marks

Author Details
Robin Secomb

Created   28 January 2004
Last modified   22 October 2020