

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE3984

Cooper, Jessie Mary

(1914 - 1993)

Nationality	Australian
Born	1 January, 1914
Died	31 December, 1993
Occupation	Parliamentarian

Summary

A member of the Liberal and Country League, Jessie Cooper was the first woman to be elected to the Parliament of South Australia in the Legislative Council in 1959 and served until her retirement in 1979.

Published resources

Book

No ordinary lives: pioneering women in Australian politics, Jenkins, Cathy, 2008

Liberal women : Federation to 1949, Fitzherbert, Margaret, 2004

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Archival resources

State Library of South Australia

Liberal Party, S.A. Division : SUMMARY RECORD

National Library of Australia, Oral History and Folklore Collection

Jessie Cooper interviewed by Amy McGrath [sound recording]

National Library of Australia

[Biographical cuttings on Jessie Cooper, Liberal MLC in SA, containing one or more cuttings from newspapers or journals]

Author Details

Rosemary Francis

Created 17 December 2008
Last modified 25 February 2009