Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE4019

Hurley, Annette Kay

(1955 -)

Born	19550101, Adelaide South Australia Australia
Occupation	Parliamentarian

Summary

A member of the Australian Labor Party, Annette Hurley was elected to the Parliament of South Australia in the seat of Napier at the election, which was held on 11 December 1993. She was defeated at the 2002 election, but won a seat in the Australian Senate at the 2004 federal election, representing the State of South Australia. She was not a candidate at the 2010 federal election.

Published resources

Resource
Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Archival resources

State Library of South Australia
Interview with Annette Hurley [sound recording] Interviewer: Allison Murchie

Author Details
Rosemary Francis

Created 27 January 2009
Last modified 16 September 2010