

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Person
Entry ID: AWE4026

White, Trish

Occupation Engineer, Parliamentarian

Summary

A member of the Australian Labor Party, Trish White was elected as the Member for Taylor in the House of Assembly of the Parliament of South Australia at a by-election, which was held on 5 November 1994. She served as a Minister for three years in the Rann Government holding the portfolios of Education, Transport, Urban Development and Planning and Information Economy. She was re-elected in 1997, 2002 and 2006, but did not re-contest the 2010 election.

Published resources

Resource

Trove, National Library of Australia, 2009

Author Details

Rosemary Francis

Created 28 January 2009

Last modified 11 May 2010