Forsyth, Dianne

Occupation Community activist, Farmer

Summary

Dianne Forsyth was the 1997 state winner of the ABC Radio Rural Woman of the Year Award for Western Australia.

Dianne was an active business partner with her husband and sons in a beef production business. They produced free-range, bio-dynamically grown beef at their property 'Three Rivers Station', in the mid-west and wheatbelt region.

Dianne was also active in the community in the Country Women's Association and the National Council of Women. She started, and was foundation Chairman of, the Meekatharra Royal Flying Doctor Service Auxiliary and President of the Silverchain Bush Nursing Post Committee.
