(1923 - 1993)

Born 7 December, 1923, Darling Point, Sydney New South Wales Australia

Died 19 January, 1993, Hunters Hill Sydney New South Wales Australia

Occupation Author, Editor, Literary critic, Poet, Writer

Summary

Nancy Keesing's first collection of poems, Imminent Summer, was published in 1951. Since this time she published numerous books, in addition to editing and writing reviews for various journals and major Australian newspapers. She was employed by the Sydney magazine the Bulletin from 1951 until the birth of her first child in 1956.

Nancy was involved in the Sydney branch of the English Association and served on the committee for a number of years. She was also actively involved in the Australian Society of Authors (ASA) from 1964, and in 1969 she was elected to the management committee. Nancy edited an anthology of members' work, titled Transition, in 1970, and from 1971 to 1974 she edited the Society's journal Australian Author.

In 1973 Nancy was one of eleven writers and academics appointed to the new literature board of the Australian Council for the Arts, which she chaired from 1974 to 1977. In 1979 she was appointed a Member of the Order of Australia (AM) for her services to Australian literature.
