

The Australian Women's Register

Entry type: Organisation

Entry ID: AWE6540

Australian Ladies Golf Union

(1921 - 1990)

Born 1 November, 1921

Died 31 December, 1990

Occupation Sporting Organisation, Union

Summary

Although several Australian states had formed Ladies Golf Unions in the early 20th century, a national body was not established until November 1921. The Australian Ladies Golf Union (ALGU) was run by delegates from Victoria and New South Wales, with Western Australia having a proxy vote. The aim of the ALGU was to promote and organise women's golf in Australia; a role which had been previously undertaken by the men's Australian golf union.

Archival resources

National Library of Australia, Oral History and Folklore Collection

[Jane Lock interviewed by Marnie Haig-Muir for the Sport oral history project \[sound recording\]](#)

Author Details

Alannah Croom

Created 5 April 2019

Last modified 5 April 2019